

Caddisfly craft

Cased caddisfly larva live underwater in rivers or ponds and make cases for themselves by sticking together material such as stones, sand, sticks and leaves with a silk like substance made in glands close to their mouth.

They use whatever is available to them - see what you can find to help this cased caddisfly make its home.

